DIGGING DEEPER &
GETTING PERSONAL

Small Group Questions & Personal Study

September 27, 2020

On Sunday morning Pastor Mike talked about how our bodies are designed to heal themselves. While we sometimes need outside help, the vast majority of the time the resources are inside of us to restore our own bodies to health.

What do you think can prevent us from experiencing self-healing in our bodies, minds, and emotions?

What about in the body of Christ? If we have been designed to bring healing into one another's lives – what things would you say prevent us from fully experiencing that?

Read Galatians 5:13-6:5

There are four “One-Anothers” in this passage – two negative and two positive. Can you find all four of them?

In the immediate context, what does the believer need to be restored from?

What are other ways that Christians can end up broken and in need of restoration?

What is your best, simple definition, for what the Bible means when it talks about “restoration” or being “restored.”

In 6:1 Paul stipulates that the one doing the restoring should be “spiritual ones” or “living by the Spirit.” What does that mean? Why is that significant?

Many of us are hesitant to expose our own brokenness in the body of Christ. Why do you think that is?

What are practical steps that we could take in this group to create an environment that would facilitate more healing by drawing on the resources of one another?
